About Judges Decisions.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Why the decisions of judges are so voluminous as they usually are is not often questioned by the public, who have come, by dint of experience, to take their extreme lengthiness as a matter of course. The whole substance of the decision is in most cases boiled down into a rescript of half a dozen lines which is printed at the beginning of it when it appears in the Reports; but the dreary wilderness of verbiage follows just the same as if the story had not been already told in brief. It is no wonder that "case reading" contributes so little to vivacity of thought, even if it does not induce mental dulness. A tale is told of a law student whom some of his fellow-boarders kept poring for six months over a single case in a volume of Reports by the simple device of putting his mark back every day to where it was when they began with him. At the expiration of half a year he remarked, contemptuously, that it seemed to him he had read something of this sort before somewhere, and the laugh that followed betrayed the secret.

The imposing length of judicial utterances is perhaps, one of the awe-inspiring traditions of the bench which have survived, while the wig, gown and kindred appliances for impressing the populace with reverence have been very generally abandoned. When a Judge sits over the heads of the public a document of the size of a Presidential message on what seems to the thoughtful a rather small occasion it is naturally supposed to be deep and broad in due proportion to its great extent, and the drier and more abstruse and unintelligible it is to the common mind the stronger is the conviction it begets of the profound erudition and universal wisdom of the author.

There is another way of accounting for the tedious verbosity of the average Judge. It may be regarded as a sort of retaliation upon the law years. The gentlemen of the Bar are, many of them, addicted to excess in the same direction, and while other auditors can go out for an occasional rest, the gentleman on the Bench has to sit and take it with such equanimity as he can bring to his support. When we come to think of it, Judges must be the worst and most continuously-bored men in the community. It ought not, then, to be wondered at that they pay back in kind when they get a chance.

John Sherman on Finance.

New York, April 15th.

Ex-Secretary Sherman said yesterday: "I see no difficulty in carrying out Secretary Windom's policy. He has a simple means for reducing the interest on the 5 and 6 per cent. bonds. He can pay off all those who wish to be paid in money, in strict accordance with those bonds, leaving the mass of them at 3 1/2 per cent. interest, payable at the pleasure of Congress. This is not only for the public interest, but it is in the clear line of his power and duty. Indeed, I think it better for the country than any refunding plan that could be carried out. Under the law the old securities remain as redeemable bonds, bearing as low a rate of interest as any new bonds, would which could be sold at par, and they are more readily payable with surplus revenue than any new bonds could be. If it should appear next session that the three per cent. bonds would sell at par, that can be authorized. Secretary Windom is cautious and careful, and has done the very best for the public interest that is possible." "Do you think the public will be likely to respond largely to his efforts?" "Yes; I have no doubt about it, unless some unforeseen or sudden revision occurs."

Matilda, a colored servant, on being told to pack up and leave, blubbered dreadfully, and refused to be comforted. The lady of the house tried to comfort her, telling her not to give way so; that she might call in on Sunday and see the family. "Taint dat ar. I jess I can't help bellerin'." I allus bellers when I quits a place. I has worked, for some ob de low-down, meanest folks on Galveston Island, but when I comes to leab I allus bellers—and de meaner dey is de louder I bellers. Bohoo! O Lordy! O Lordy! O Lordy! My heart will bust shuck! O Lordy! O Lordy!—Galveston News.

A Vermont who was drumming in the West for a marble firm was asked, while on a trip recently, to fill the pulpit on Sunday in a little town where there was no minister. There chanced to be a funeral, and he was not used to the business, but he knew as much about it as any one present, and so he consented. After closing his exordium he said: "My friends we mourn for our dead; the best way to perpetuate their memory is to purchase a monument from—mentioned the firm he worked for—and closed with a benediction."

INSURANCE! INSURANCE!!

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC IS called to the following notices from the April number of the "Coast Review," the recognized authority on insurance on this coast, of the Insurance Companies represented by the Agency of Jacobs & Easton, and for which

W. N. Kneez is Agent for Reno!

THE TRADERS'.
The Traders' Insurance Company is a conservative, well-managed company. The assets of nearly one million dollars, consist of the very best securities, being principally United States bonds. The original capital of $500,000, in United States bonds, has never been touched since the organization of the company. The losses paid to date aggregate $1,700,000, and the surplus to policy holders is $724,000.

THE GLASS FALLS INSURANCE CO., better known as the "Old and Tried," has had a regular record of prosperity. Its assets go beyond a million dollars, and the surplus $729,564.33. This company does business under the Safety Fund law of New York, and shows the largest book value of stock of any fire insurance company of the United States.

THE BUFFALO-GERMAN INSURANCE CO. also does its business under the Safety Fund law of New York, which makes its policies doubly secure. This company has assets amounting to $2,021,627.73, and a surplus to policy holders of $644,911.43. The stock of the company has a book value of $225.04 for every hundred dollars, which being the Buffalo-Germans fourth on the list of all American companies.

THE UNION INSURANCE COMPANY of Philadelphia, was incorporated in 1804, and since then has paid out in losses more than $10,000,000. The assets of the company are about $200,000, with a surplus to policy holders of $400,000. This company has lately moved into their new and elegant building, the present large quarters being necessary for the transaction of their increased business.

THE TRADERS' INSURANCE COMPANY of New York City, points to an honorable and successful record of nearly a quarter of a century, suffering largely in the Chicago conflagration, and paying on the great loss on fire alone more than the amount of its entire capital, without calling upon its stockholders for one dollar, and to-day is stronger than ever.

THE ROCHSTER GERMAN INSURANCE COMPANY is a well-managed institution, writing small lines and making haste slowly. It has assets of nearly a half million dollars, and a handsome surplus beyond its capital. Since its organization it has made steady progress, adding yearly to its assets, as well as to its surplus.

THE SHOE AND LEATHER INSURANCE COMPANY is one of Boston's best companies. The assets of the company, January 1st, 1880, amounted to $389,939.74, and the surplus to policy holders, $387,343.51. Always prompt and honorable in paying off losses, this company has earned an enviable reputation.

THE ORIENT INSURANCE CO., of Hartford, is well known to the insuring public, having done business on this coast some years ago. The company withdrew from here for some reason or other, and has returned now, intending to stay. Its assets are $353,021.07, and the surplus $692,611.31.

THE SENATE

The present dead lock in the Senate of the United States has almost ceased to be of interest, and the scenes which are daily enacted on the Senate floor are not creditable to the people or their representatives. Mahone seems to have very little argument at command and the more experienced legislators seem bent on exhibiting him. His ability may be very great but he has thus far shown nothing but an irascible temper. The stand which he has taken against Bourbonism would if maintained with dignity be of great benefit to the South. He has found imitators in nearly every State south of the old line, and it cannot be doubted that President Garfield has encouraged Mahone in this independent position from patriotic motives. As to the duty which he owes to party that is a question for the party that claims his allegiance. There is no law upon the statute book which forbids a change of opinion in political affairs. It is only to be regretted that Mahone does not seem large enough to fill the position he has assumed to fill.

Conkling has arrogated to himself dictatorial powers. Whether he is the President or a Senator seems to be well settled, and he is merely assuming the exercise of power never conferred to him by the people. If the contest hurts the Republican party Conkling will be responsible for the injury. Like all believers in the machine, he will exhibit the utmost fidelity when the machine runs well. When his wishes are not strictly followed he inaugurates rebellion. If the President yields he will disappoint thousands of his supporters, and if the thwarting of one wish of his Lord Roscoe hurts the Republican party it is weaker than we have ever believed.

Gold Hill is settling so rapidly as to crack panes of glass in the Gold Hill railroad depot. The big crevasse in the neighborhood of Fort Homestead is constantly widening. A revival would be strictly in order. Deacon Gibson will you lead?

An exchange tells how Mr. Johnson and his "new bride" arrived in town, but leaves the public in doubt as to the whereabouts of Mr. Johnson's old bride.

The report is again revived in San Francisco that Mackay & Fair possess the Suto tunnel. The price of the tunnel stock advanced a dollar a share in New York on Wednesday.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Field Marshal Count Von Moltke has written another letter on the question of war. He thinks "it is not allowable for any State to dispend with it altogether." He says: "It is certain that all wars—even those that are victorious—are misfortunes for a country, and that no territorial or pecuniary indemnity can compensate for the mourning they cause in families; but they are a terrible misfortune sent by necessity, and we must submit to the will of God." The veteran Marshal is no doubt good authority on war, but just how he came to be an expert on the will of God has not transpired. Like many a better man, Moltke thinks that the will of God is against his interests. That may be true, for it has forced the Marshal to attempt a book.

A Washington special says that influential Democrats threaten to bring out in debate in the Senate next week Mahone's record of personal quarrels with Democrats in Virginia and the manner in which he escaped fighting a duel with General Bradley Johnson of Maryland. They allege that evidence will be submitted showing that Mahone is brave only in words and that while giving just cause for attack he has escaped fighting duels by questionable means. The drift of talk in Democratic quarters indicates a purpose on their part to try and force Mahone into a position where he will be obliged to fight. Mahone can fight or not as it pleases him. But such tactics as outlined above can end only in murder. That would indeed be a new way to break a dead lock.

The Modoc Independent says: "The question of tapping Eagle Lake for the purpose of irrigating the desert lands of Lassen county is again being agitated. The work was commenced several years ago, but was temporarily suspended for want of capital. Some Nevada capitalists have recently been out taking a view of the situation, and it is presumed that they will take hold of the enterprise and push the work through." This would add a large area of land to Lassen county and largely increase the business of Reno.

The women of the Isle of Man occupy "the proud position of being the first of their sex within her Majesty's divisions whose rights as parliamentary electors have been recognized and legally secured. An address to the female electors of the Isle of Man, signed by Miss Becker and Mrs. Scatchard, has been issued. The Manx women are congratulated, and are advised to exercise their rights fully and to the best of their judgment and ability. The victory which has been won in the island is hailed as an earnest of the coming recognition of the same principal in the next Reform bill for the United Kingdom.

The Washington Capital says: It is the intention of Senator Fair to devote the remainder of his prime of life to public pursuits; for which he comes well equipped with a broad and liberal mind, a comprehensive fund of information and experience, and above all, with a gentle and refined courtesy and hospitality not surpassed by any contemporary. Luff, you beggar, luff.

The Lottery case was argued and submitted on April 14th, and briefs have since been filed. A decision is expected sometime during the coming week. The managers state that they have received letters from London and Paris asking for agencies. This is the old story. As Judge Whitman said in the Supreme Court, "Man is an animal that will take chances if you give him a chance to take them."

The papers throughout the northern country are very much interested in the success of the Nevada and Oregon railroad. They quote from the Reno papers every scrap of news connected with it, and show that their readers are in hearty sympathy with the enterprise.

Parasites

Sol. Lingle is doctoring the cottonwood trees about the Lake House. The bodies of the trees are covered with little bunches which have been found to increase in size. Investigation proves that these bunches are filled with millions of small white worms, which are slowly but surely destroying the life of the trees. The wound once made in the woody fibre, the sap is drawn to that spot, and the tree is gradually deprived of its proper nourishment by these parasites. Lingle thinks he will succeed in routing the enemy.

Annoyed the Players

Major Dennis, in the Times-Review, gets off the following at the expense of Congressman Cassidy: "If check will carry a man through, Cassidy will get along in Washington. One night, a few weeks ago, while playing poker in a sleeping car on the C. P. R. R., a fat old gentleman in an adjoining section to the card quartet commenced snoring. Our Congressman immediately sent for the conductor and requested that the snoring vocalist be put out of the car, as he was annoying the poker game."

Board of Pardons

The following additional rules were adopted by the Board of Pardons at its last meeting:

Rule 2.—No document relating to a pending application for pardon or commutation of sentence, or to a prior application which has been denied shall be withdrawn from custody of the Clerk after filing, unless by consent of the Board.

Rule 10.—Applicants for pardon or commutation of sentence must be filed with the Clerk at least two days before the regular meeting of the Board, at which the application is to be considered.

Death on the Cross

Miss Bradley, daughter of Major Bradley of Salt Lake City, died of consumption on the east bound overland train at 9:25 o'clock last night. Miss Bradley was accompanied by her mother, and they were on their way home.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Richmond vs. Albion.

EUREKA, April 15.

Judge Rising has arrived, and the great case between the Richmond and Albion will be resumed on Monday. The Judge, accompanied by Congressman Wren, representing the Richmond, and ex-Senator Stewart, representing the Albion, to-day visited the mines, and personally inspected the underground workings and all the points in controversy. Judge Rising is supposed to have been amazed at the great quantity of ore in sight. The community and all concerned have confidence in his ability and impartiality. Both sides are ready, and there will be no further delay in the trial of the case, which is now expected to occupy two weeks. The Albion continues to ship ore, which is daily attached at the furnace by the Richmond. In each case the Albion files a bond and goes on with its shipments.

A General Understanding

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.

A Chico dispatch of last night says: Henry Swearingen, a resident of Dayton, seven miles from here, shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. David Boucher, killing her instantly. He next shot his wife in the arm, seized her, placed the pistol to her breast, and fired again with fatal effect. He then sent a bullet through his own brain. There had been some family trouble between the parties, but a general understanding had been reached and Swearingen was to have left for Missouri in the morning. Mrs. Boucher was the widow of the late State Senator from Butte county.

The Reno and Alturas Road.

Last year considerable work was done on a new wagon road leading from Alturas to Reno. The subject has been revived and work is to be resumed, and there will soon be a good wagon road between the two places. The Susanville Advocate of recent date, speaking of the matter, says:

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens interested in the new Reno and Alturas wagon road that is to run via Buntingville and Belfast, was held at Wynu's hotel in Buntingville last Saturday. The meeting was called to order by Hon. J. D. Byers, and Dr. Diefendorf acted as Secretary. It was decided to run the road through Byers Pass, thence by way of the Coldthrust ranch, to intersect the Tule and Belfast roads. The distance by the proposed road from Buntingville to Belfast is said to be thirteen miles, and to Alturas eight miles. Milton Cain, Captain Merrill and B. H. Leavitt were elected directors. Work is to be commenced at once, and $880 were subscribed for that purpose. In a twenty minute speech Captain C. A. Merrill urged the vigorous and immediate prosecution of the work, and presented numerous reasons why and wherein the road would be a benefit to all.

Truckee Items.

Drunken Indians enliven the boulevards and make business for the lynx-eyed policeman.

James Ward, who has been Superintendent of the Truckee Lumber Co. for a good many years past resigned his position a few days ago.

The lumber interests are all looking well, and a busy season is a certainty.

The Banner Mill Company will run their mill up to its full capacity during the season.

A. M. Walker and wife have returned from Arizona.

Last Wednesday morning a lively scene was presented on Front street. Twelve teams were standing in a bunch taking on hay and other feed preparatory for a trip to Lake Tahoe, where they will be engaged during the present summer in hauling wood for the firm of Hobart & Marlette.

Two men accompanied each team. They are under contract to haul the above named wood amounting to about 50,000 cords.

The amount of snow which fell last Winter will make this a better season for stock raising and farming than has been experienced in Nevada for years. The grass has already begun to grow on the south side of the mountains and in the valleys, and in the course of another month the herbage will be abundant everywhere. There will be plenty of water for irrigation, and our farmers can reasonably count on a plentiful harvest.

The preparations for the spring rodeo by Elko stock men, are not only enlivening business in town, but the bucking of broncos, as with their riders they plunge about the plaza affords frequent entertainment to the citizens unequalled by a first-class circus, and the exhibitions cost the audience nothing.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

On Saturday night last the saloons of S. S. Carney and George Castelli at Palmdale were burglarized.

Horace W. Bridges, an old resident of Grass Valley, died at Willows, Colusa Co., Cal., on Wednesday.

A San Bernardino, California, dealer has shipped this season 20,000 oranges, 12,000 lemons and 7,000 limes to Arizona.

A water spout visited Canyon City, Oregon, one day recently, flooding cellars and drenching things generally.

A lively little touch of winter visited the region of Astoria, Oregon, lately. Hailstones lay thick upon the streets and house tops for half an hour or so.

The Herman Brothers are getting out about 170,000 feet of ash lumber on the South Fork. It will be sold to Parker & Co., and sawed and shipped to San Francisco.

George White, a miner from Spenceville, California, committed suicide by shooting himself at the Sierra Nevada lodging house, San Francisco, on Tuesday night.

The argument in the case of the Willamette Iron Bridge Company closed Tuesday evening in the U.S. Circuit Court, and the matter was submitted to Judges Sawyer and Deady.

The stage from Tuscarora, Tuesday evening, brought to Elko three bars of Navajo bullion, valued at $4,548.96, and one bar from Lancaster & Co.'s mill, the value of which was $1,940.72.

One look at George's display informs the public who carries the best and most substantial stock in Reno. Jan-17

The Greatest Blessing. A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every form of rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, headache, toothache, backache, and all other pains, and is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Stop! Bitter is that remedy, and its properties are being proved by thousands who have been cured and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

Not the least important feature in Feltow's Compound Syrup of Hyppocypis is the Compound Bunsbury, or Vigor which is inspired by its use, as the patient recovers from the effects of the disease. Not known contains the same potent and direct effect on the nervous system.

Luscious, sweet and wholesome. Hun PUNCH, hot or cold, is more grateful to the palate and more refreshing than any other drink. All well stocked larders are supplied with it. Sold by all grocers, wine merchants and druggists. Trade supplied by Richard A. Harrison, Agents for Pacific coast, San Francisco.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, loss of memory, and other ailments, I would send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. When in 1872 the charge d'affaires from Japan, Mr. Arimori Mori, conceived the idea of compiling a volume on education for the benefit of his countrymen, the only representative in Congress to whom he applied for information was James A. Garfield. The contribution which he sent was subsequently printed with others by Joseph Henry, J. H. Seelye, Peter Cooper, and Presidents Woolsey, Stearns, Hopkins, McCosh, and Eliot, as well as Octavius Fernichief; and now, in view of his elevation to the Presidency of the United States, it is a matter of interest to know the character of his views on the important subject in question. The article is quite long, and the sentiments, from beginning to end, are broad, elevated, and wise. After testifying his deep interest in Japan, he declares that universal education and the maintenance of personal and social and public morality to be the foundation of all national prosperity and glory; and this is the prevailing conviction of the people of the United States, and that the real power of a State rests upon the virtue and intelligence of its citizens. But the following paragraph is especially interesting as evidence of what the country may expect from a President whose aims are high and patriotic. "If education," he says, "generally diffused among the people, elevates and betters their condition, its influence upon the laws and government of a nation must be beneficial in a high degree. It will enable those in power to understand the wants and aspirations of the people for whom they make laws. It will enable the people themselves to see the wisdom and appreciate the justice of their Government; and will thus increase their respect for law, which is the basis of public safety." There is so little of the common politician in such language that its effect in these days is both novel and refreshing.

A Revised Webster.

Necessity.—A female who has blessed the world with a number of useful children.

Neck.—Of a society lady means half way down to the waist.

Neighbor.—Food for scandal.

Never.—adv Generally means hardly ever.

Newspaper.—A publication in which the affairs of the Nation are settled by men who frequently can't settle their own wash bills.

Nice.—adj. See Naughty.

Nourishment.—N. Formerly bread; now whiskey, tobacco and beer.

Nuptials.—The prologue to a comedy-tragedy drama.

Pardon.—A punishment inflicted on American criminals.

Parson.—A shepherd who is frequently more interested in Mary than in the little lambs.

Pathology.—The science which teaches how to tell a man that he has the stomach ache, after he has told you he has a pain in the stomach.

People.—A. An insignificant section of the American political machine, who are allowed to vote to keep them in good humor, after the politicians have chosen their rulers for them.

Elopements.

Chicago has an elopement case in which the enamored pair, being hindered in their departure by the woman's husband, gave him a dreadful whipping and threw him out of a window. A man eloped at Cayuga, N. Y., and with some difficulty induced a clergyman to marry him to his companion. On the following day he came with another girl, and wanted to be united to her. He has since been sent to an insane asylum. The bride in a Lakeville, Conn. elopement was only 13. A couple at Litchfield, Minn., walked twenty-five miles before they found a qualified person who would perform the ceremony. The white, educated wife of a rich man at Amboy, Ill., eloped with a handsome mulatto servant of about half her own age. An eloping couple at What Cheer, Wis., being caught in a severe storm, broke into a church for lodging, and were fined $30.

The skeletons of three men were recently exhumed near Salt Lake City. A gentleman who was conversing with a Tribune reporter about the find, said it was an almost every-day occurrence. "There have been no less than 500 murders committed in this valley alone, and its history, if written, would be one of blood."

At this place there has just been received large quantities of the following celebrated brands of liquors: James Moore's A. A. Old Bourbon and J. B. Cutter O. S.
